

Axial thermomechanical model setup — schematic

The domain follows the project setup direction: 50 km × 50 km by 10 km depth. *The side and basal 30 °C/km geotherm is an explicit thermal assumption. The four-case calibration retains a fixed base; a separate Winkler diagnostic uses an illustrative coefficient. Axial density contrast, prestress, and the tectonic face-rate split remain unresolved.