

Axial thermomechanical model setup — schematic

The domain follows the project setup direction: 50 km × 50 km by 10 km depth. *The side and basal 30 °C/km geotherm is an explicit thermal assumption. The target Winkler base is not represented in current PyLith runs; its Axial density contrast and prestress are unresolved. The tectonic face-rate split is unresolved.